Art Unit: 2157

1. Claims 32-50 are presenting for examination (claims 1-31 have been canceled).

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 32-50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Bittinger (US Pat. No. 5,867,661).

4. As to claim 32, Bittinger shows in Fig. 2, a system and a method for reducing the delay between the time a data page is requested and the time the data page is displayed (see the abstract, lines 1-5, col 3, lines 36-41, col 7, lines 13-20). Bittinger teaches the limitations of:

- receiving a request from a client 5 for retrieval of a data page, see col 6, lines 64-66, col 8, lines 7-9, col 12, lines 46-47;
- transmitting a first version of the data page in response to the request, see col 8, lines 16-22, col 9, lines 40-45;
- determine whether there is a difference between a second version of the data page and the first version of the data page, see col 2, lines 41-44, col 6, lines 59-61, col 14, lines 61-64;
- if there is a difference, transmitting the difference data, see col 15, lines 14-21, col 16, lines 26-35, col 17, lines 7-19, lines 38-56.

Art Unit: 2157

5. As to claim 33, the first version of the data page is retrieved from a cache within the server 6, see col 7, lines 41-44, col 8, lines 6-28, col 9, lines 11-20, lines 40-45.

6. As to claims 34-39, Bittinger teaches the step of contacting another server (other than the server 6) storing the second version and computing the difference, see col 15, lines 14-21, col 16, lines 26-35, col 17, lines 7-19, lines 38-56.

7. As to claims 40-45, Bittinger teaches transmitting the second portion instead of the difference data, see col 14, lines 61-67, col 15, lines 1-3.

8. As to claims 46-50, the claims are similar ins cope to claims 32-45, and they are rejected under the same rationale.

Therefore, it can be seen from paragraphs 4-8 that Bittinger anticipates claims 32-50.

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
